SILVER REEF DIVE RESORT

Push your photography and create competition-worthy images

Join Nicolas Remy at Silver Reef Dive Resort in Dauin, Philippines - one of the world's best destinations for photographing macro critters, as well as turtles and giant frogfish. With a small group of 12 photographers and a maximum of two participants per guide, practical teaching, image critiques and individual guidance help you develop your skills and creative eye - and create more distinctive, memorable underwater images.

After five days of diving, learning and honing your skills, you will be ready to enter the Dive Dauin 2027 underwater photography competition. The event brings together an international community of photographers and gives you the chance to work to a brief and submit your strongest images across multiple categories.
